DETAILED ACTION

This final office action is in response to amendments filed on 8/14/07.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wright et al., US Patent no. 6,467,042 [Wright].

Regarding claim 4, Wright discloses an interface circuit provided for each of a first device set as a master side and a second device set as a slave side, for performing a serial data transmission between the first and second devices on the basis of a control signal which is output from the master side, comprising:

a detection portion which monitors the control signal output a detection signal when there is a change in the control signal [TRAFFIC DETECT in Figure 2 and column 3, lines 21-29].

a process control portion which generates and switches an operation-enable signal and operation disable signal each time the detection signal is supplied thereto [SUSPEND/SLEEP CONTROLLER in Figure 2 and column 3, lines 21-29];

an oscillation circuit which generates a clock signal for data transmission only when the operation-enable signal is supplied thereto [CLOCK GENERATOR in Figure 2 and column 3, lines 30-35 and column 4, lines 14-19]; and a transmission function portion which performs the serial data transmission on the basis of the clock signal [CLK2 is provided to SIE, which communicates via USB, Figure 2 and column 3, lines 19-20].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wright et al., US Patent no. 6,467,042 [Wright].

Regarding claims 5-7, Wright, as described above, discloses a detection portion, which monitors the control signal to output a detection signal when there is a change in the detection signal. Wright is silent as to the specific components that are inside the detection portion. Applicant(s) numerous definitions of the internal circuitry of the detection portion is construed to be an admission that the criticality does not reside in the type of internal circuitry utilized in the detection portion and hence are obvious variations of one another.

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wright et al., US Patent no. 6,467,042 [Wright], in view of Dehghan, US Patent no. 6,275,087.

Wright, as described above, discloses a detection portion, which monitors the control signal to output a detection signal when there is a change in the detection signal. Wright is silent as to the specific components that are inside the detection portion and therefore does not explicitly disclose a noise removal circuit for removing noise components from the control signal. However, as shown by Dehghan [column 6, lines 40-52], using noise removal circuitry in signal detection circuits is well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use well known noise removal circuitry in the Wright detection portion of the interface circuit.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 4-9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
